A child's drawing of a red car with a yellow figure standing next to it. The car is drawn with thick red crayon strokes, and the figure is drawn with yellow crayon strokes. The background is white with blue sky, black clouds, and a black sun. The car has a license plate that says '840'. The figure is wearing a yellow shirt and pants, and has a black hat. The car is parked on a green grassy area.

A child's drawing of a red truck with a yellow trailer. The truck is drawn with thick red crayon strokes. The trailer is yellow with some blue and black markings. The truck has a steering wheel visible through the windshield and two large wheels. The background is a blue sky with some white clouds and a grey ground. The drawing is done on a white sheet of paper.

A child's drawing of a red fire truck. The truck is oriented horizontally, facing left. It has a red body with black outlines for the wheels, windows, and doors. A black ladder is mounted on the side of the truck. The background is a solid blue sky, and the ground is a solid yellow color. The drawing is done in a simple, expressive style with visible brushstrokes.
